Garden Shelters Rickard's Body

Famous Sports Promoter Lies in State in Madison Square Garden, Scene of Some of His Greatest Triumphs.

New York, Jan. 8 (P).—The train bearing the body of Tex Rickard, who died at Miami Beach, where the career of the famous sports promoter ended Sunday, reached Pennsylvania Station today at 10:20 a. m.

Thousands jammed the station, but only friends and newspapermen, numbering more than 100, were permitted to enter the approaches to the train.

Most of the members of the board of directors of Madison Square Garden, led by Colonel John S. Hammond, new acting general manager, were there to arrange transfer of the body, as well as to meet Mrs. Rickard and Jack Dempsey.

Mrs. Rickard was near a state of collapse.

The body of the promoter, encased in a $15,000 bronze casket and covered with an immense floral gift of Dempsey—white carnations with "my pal" traced in red flowers—was taken to funeral parlors prior to being laid in state later at Madison Square Garden.

Dempsey, much affected by the scenes and disinclined to talk at any length, nevertheless made it clear he had not made any decision about retirement from the ring, declared he had no intention of trying to fill Rickard's shoes at the Garden and explained his interest in promotion of the Sharkey-Stribling fight at Miami Beach.

"When a fellow like Rickard dies it takes the edge off everything," said Dempsey, "he was my pal."

The former champion indicated he would have no definite statement about his future ring plans or other activities until he leaves New York or returns to Florida.

Body at Madison Square Garden.

Madison Square Garden, tangible evidence of his genius, will shelter Rickard's body until it is taken to Woodlawn Cemetery for burial tomorrow.

The scene of some of his greatest triumphs, the huge sports arena his brain built will experience a contrast, instead of cheering thousands the Garden has known so often, there will be a funeral silence, row on row of empty seats, and hushed thousands come to pass in solemn file before the bier of a dead king of sportdom in the center of the arena.

One hundred policemen were assigned for duty this morning along the route from the Pennsylvania Station to the Garden during the removal of the bronze coffin from the train that brought it from Miami.

Plans were for only the promoter's widow and his closest friends to visit the Garden today. At 10:30 tomorrow morning the public will be permitted to pay its last respects to the greatest promoter the boxing game has ever known. Services are to be held at 1:30 p. m. Burial at 2 is to be in the cemetery where the promoter's first wife and daughter lie.

Speculate Over His Successor.

With the appointment of Colonel John S. Hammond as acting general manager of the Garden corporation, there was a lull in speculation as to who Rickard's permanent successor will be. There was still some guessing as to this question, with the names of Hammond, John M. Chapman, czar of the six-day bicycle race game, Tom McCardie, matchmaker at the Garden, Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney figuring most prominently.

Colonel Hammond's first announcement as general manager was to the effect that plans would go forward for the Stribling-Sharkey fight at Miami Beach February 27. As a matter of fact, Rickard had left the situation in regard to this match in such shape that little remains to be done.

Estimates of Fortune Vary.

Estimates as to the extent of the dead promoter's personal fortune varied from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000. Less than a year ago Rickard himself estimated it at around $2,500,000, nearly half of it in cash.

As a mark of respect, the Garden was ordered closed tonight and tomorrow night. This forced postponement of a hockey game between the New York Rangers and Les Canadiens of Montreal, set for this evening, and of an amateur boxing show, scheduled for tomorrow night.

PRINGLE, ALBANY POOL OFFICIAL, SURRENDERS.

William J. Pringle, secretary-treasurer of the Albany baseball pool, surrendered at the federal building in New York city Monday for transportation to Atlanta, where he will begin serving in the penitentiary this week the eighteen months sentence imposed by Judge Thatcher for using the mails in conducting a lottery and for conspiracy to use the mails improperly. James Otto and Walter J. Kane, who with Pringle were the titular owners of the pool, were sentenced to a year and a day each.

United States Attorney Tuttle said that Hugh McQuinn, chief of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue department, has continued to work on the income tax phase of the defendants but that the surrender of the defendants does not preclude further prosecution in this district or in Albany. According to the income tax returns of Pringle, Otto and Kane they received $46,666 a year each.

Features for Musicians' Ball

Concert Program Will Feature Selections from Verdi's Famous Opera "Ernani"—Six Orchestras to Alternate in Furnishing Music.

Kingston musicians will have their night at the armory Wednesday evening, January 16, when the annual Musicians' Ball will be held. There will be an opening concert from 8 until 9 o'clock by a brass band of 35 pieces under the personal direction of Harry Malsenholder. The program will include standard overtures, selections from grand opera and musical comedies and marches by famous composers.

As the principal number of this concert the musicians will give selections from the opera "Ernani." This opera was first produced in the year 1844 in Italy by Giuseppe Verdi, the composer. Verdi was born at Roncole in the duchy of Parma, Italy, October 9, 1813, and was one of the great composers. He wrote a number of operas known to the whole musical world. "Ernani" was one of his favorite operas and was given about a month ago at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York city. The music to this opera is very tuneful and every instrument in the orchestra or band has very fine work to perform. The overture to the opera "Ernani" will be played on the program by the Citizens' Band under the direction of Mr. Malsenholder.

Music for the dance numbers which will start at 9 o'clock will be by six well known orchestras under the direction of their own leaders. This will provide continuous dancing and everyone will have an opportunity during the evening to dance to his or her favorite orchestra as each of the musical organizations will alternate. The musical organizations will be under the leadership of Paul Zucca, John P. Erne, Tony Turck, Harry Malsenholder, Eddie Greco and there will also be selections by the Merry Melody Orchestra of Saugerties.

Paul Zucca is chairman of the committee of arrangements with the following assistants: John Erne, Herman Herman, Henry Terpening, Norman Robinson and the officers of the local Musicians' Union, Edward Ward, president; M. E. Baile, vice president; E. C. Swart, treasurer, and John A. Cole, secretary.

Those who will greet the patrons at the door and receive the tickets will be William McCullough, chairman; Fred Lang, Charles W. Shultz, Michael Liebig, W. N. Connor and Henry Herzog.

The cigar booth, where cigars and cigarettes of all the popular brands can be purchased will be in charge of William Newkirk, chairman; Jesse B. Boice, Harry E. Fields, George K. Golden and L. Edgar Holstein.

A new office has been created this year and that is general chairman of the ticket committee. E. M. Stanbrough, who holds the record for the greatest amount of tickets disposed of, has been selected for this important position. Announcement of the members of this committee will be given later.

Last but by no means least, the refreshments will be in the very efficient charge of the ladies who compose the board of managers of the Industrial Home. Detailed announcement of this most important committee will be given later.

Several months ago newspapers reported that the capitalist and philanthropist had been confined to his million dollar mansion at the corner of 89th street and Fifth avenue by the infirmities of age. In 1915 and again in 1917 he had been seriously ill with a nervous disorder.

Duke benefactions included large gifts to Trinity College, now Duke University, at Durham, and to Guilford College. His home here is furnished with art treasures.

Death was due to acute bronchial trouble. At Mr. Duke's bedside were his wife, Mrs. Sarah Pearson Duke; his daughter, Mrs. A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr.; his son-in-law, Mr. Biddle; and his clergyman, Dr. Ralph W. Sockman.

The capitalist was stricken with the bronchial attack last night and failed to rally.

Duke, Tobacco Millionaire, Dies

New York, Jan. 8 (P).—Benjamin N. Duke, tobacco manufacturer, died at his residence at 2 East 89th street early today after a lengthy illness.

Duke was in his 74th year. Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but burial will be Thursday in Durham, N. C., where he maintained an estate.

Shriners Plan For Annual Ball

The Kingston Shriners' Association have been carefully working and planning for several months past to make their annual entertainment and ball which will be held in the armory on Wednesday evening, January 30, an outstanding success. The entire proceeds, as in years past, will be turned over to that most worthy institution, the Industrial Home, and the public may rest assured that every dollar will be spent where it will do the most good.

Fred L. Van Deusen, president of the Kingston Shriners' Association, has appointed the following committees:

Entertainment and music: Samuel S. Brown, chairman; William H. Van Etten, M. H. Herzog, Philip Elting, Dr. A. L. Hill and Arthur A. Davis. This committee will go to New York city this week to make final arrangements for the entertainment and music which will be the very best obtainable.

The decorations this year will be a work of art under the direction of Frank L. Brown, chairman; Fred Van Voorhis, Gerard W. Betz, William Doyle, Jr., Arthur J. Burns, John Canright and Sam Scudder, Jr.

The floor committee will see to it that everyone is promptly and efficiently ushered to a good seat and will consist of Harry R. LeFever, chairman; Dr. Julian I. Clifford, C. K. Loughran, Fred M. Dressel, George J. Schryver, Ralph Cohen, William McBride, Henry Klein, H. C. Connelly, and M. E. Powley.

One of the important committees will be the army committee which will see to it that there will be a seat for everyone and will attend to the numerous details upon which the success of the event rests and will consist of Samuel J. Messinger, chairman; B. J. Winne and Amos MacCreary.

The publicity this year will be well taken care of by Raymond E. Craft, chairman; Harry D. Frey and Herbert E. Thomas.

As in years past the ticket office will be presided over by E. O. Van Aken.

Those who will greet the patrons at the door and receive the tickets will be William McCullough, chairman; Fred Lang, Charles W. Shultz, Michael Liebig, W. N. Connor and Henry Herzog.

The cigar booth, where cigars and cigarettes of all the popular brands can be purchased will be in charge of William Newkirk, chairman; Jesse B. Boice, Harry E. Fields, George K. Golden and L. Edgar Holstein.

Question Mark Routine Work Comes Down After 150 Hours in Air

Army Monoplane Broke All Records of Endurance Relating to Aircraft—Lands With One Motor Working—Crew Quickly Regain Their Bearings After Struggling Land.

Los Angeles, Jan. 8 (P).—The human engine is after all superior to the mechanical one in endurance flying.

The question, one of the many put to the army's monoplane Question Mark, was answered beyond a doubt when the great Fokker came up the battle yesterday afternoon and settled to earth after a glorious triumph in the field of aviation, a record-shattering flight of 150 hours, 40 minutes, 15 seconds and nearly 12,000 miles safely completed.

Neither the astounding distance or endurance performances of the remarkable ship were regarded by her army sponsors as the prime accomplishment, however. That distinction went to her thorough proof of the theory that refueling of airplanes while in flight is practical, which army officers said was the chief mission of the epochal flight.

None of the three 225-horsepower motors was entirely airworthy when the crew finally nosed the ship down to earth after a flight which lasted nearly a full week. On the other hand the five men aboard were pronounced physically fit by army physicians who said they needed only rest. First statements from the men also voiced the fact they were feeling physically fit and could take off again if the motors would permit.

Only One Motor Working

Faithful to the last in the mission assigned them, the Question Mark's crew kept the great ship aloft until the very end of its endurance, bringing it to earth with one motor dead, another failing rapidly and practically powerless, and the third able to make but 1,300 revolutions per minute.

But even against those insurmountable odds the courageous crew refused to give up without a daring last minute battle against mechanical failures. When every effort to re-ignite the lagging motors failed, Major Carl Spatz, in command, finally gave the landing order, excess gasoline and supplies were dumped, and the ship glided to earth practically at the spot from which it took off at 7:26:16 a. m. January 1.

Landing at the Metropolitan airport here guaranteed the crew official recognition for record-breaking performances made by the ship, which flew 32 hours longer than aircraft ever stayed aloft before, and 35 hours longer than an airplane ever before had flown.

Only One Record Not Broken.

About the only record of consequence not lifted by the Question Mark was the non-refueling endurance flight record of the Germans, Johann Hitzsch and Wilhelm Zimmermann, made about six months ago. That record of 65 hours, 25 minutes stands only by virtue of the fact that no new supplies were taken on board during the flight.

The refueling endurance record of 60 hours, 37 minutes, held by Belgian aviators, was broken by more than 50 hours.

Intruding the realm of lighter-than-air craft the Question Mark also eclipsed all known endurance records, flying 32 hours longer than the French Dirigible Dixmude, which held the record of 118 hours.

New Era in Flying Predicted.

Just how far-reaching an effect the Question Mark's achievement will have upon the future of military and commercial aviation was yet to be determined. It prompted army and navy aviation officers to predict a new era in flying. It demonstrated the feasibility of refueling in air under a variety of conditions.

It caused Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of naval aviation, to envision round the world non-stop flights. It prompted many aviators to declare that transcontinental and even trans-oceanic flights might become commonplace.

It forecast that airplanes of the future will carry more pay load and less fuel, taking small supplies of gasoline on the run as required.

Congratulations came to the crew of the plane by basketfuls, from Secretary of War Davis; Assistant Secretary F. Trubee Davidson; from Admiral Moffett and others.

Motor Trouble Undetermined.

Exact nature of the motor trouble which forced the ship down was not determined as the great yellow and black monoplane was taxied into a hangar immediately, and placed under guard pending examination of her motors, which was ordered for today.

The pilots themselves, who submitted to physical examinations and brought their log up to date before turning in for a long-deferred quiet sleep, believed faulty valve springs ended the flight.

The ship consumed 3,265 gallons of gasoline and 252 gallons of oil, although it gets official credit for a distance of less than 3,000 miles because weather conditions forced it away from its established course from here to San Diego after the second day.

New Fred Physically Fit.

Statements and log entries of the men revealed that the seventh day aboard was one of the most enjoyable, and most of them recorded that they felt more physically fit at that stage than earlier in the flight when bumpy air, threatened fuel shortage,

City Forests Are Increasing

Marked increase in orders for municipal projects—many counties leads in size of early orders for trees for spring planting.

Albany, Jan. 7.—The winter year promises to be one of unusual activity in municipal reforestation projects.

With the spring planting season still three months distant orders for more than four million trees for spring planting are already on file in the offices of the conservation department.

Twenty-nine municipalities including counties, cities, towns, villages and school districts have placed orders aggregating more than twenty-five per cent of the total which is a decided increase over last year when municipal planting projects amounted to only about fifteen per cent of the total.

Saugerties, Elmira and Manlius have ordered trees for planting on their municipal watersheds for the protection of their water supplies.

New York city has an order for making a new forest plantation at the Otisville Sanatorium and one for its city watershed.

Port Jervis and Elmira are making additions to their city forests.

Lyons Falls and Schoharie are making new plantations in their village forests, the former ten years old and the latter up to its twentieth year with 215,000 trees already planted.

Norwich, Lowville and Warsaw are all making additions of from 25,000 to 100,000 trees to their watershed forests.

Essex county has ordered 27,000 trees for park reforestation projects.

Canton, Carthage, Elton and Salamanca all of which have good sized forests are making new plantations. The first three of July each and the last of July.

The Fairport municipal commission which started a forest in 1926 is doubling its size this year.

Little Falls which started a municipal forest in 1915 and already has planted 1,115,000 trees, is adding 100,000 this spring.

Herkimer which started a village forest last year is doubling its size this year.

The Ulster park board has ordered 10,000 trees which will bring that city's total plantings in the past thirteen years close to a quarter of a million trees.

The village of Eldred is starting a High School forest this spring with 5,000 trees as the first year's planting.

Watkinsville which already has a village forest of 121,000 will plant 12,000 more trees this spring.

Dolgeville which started a village forest in 1923 and has planted 20,000 trees, will add 15,000 more this spring and Boonville which started a watershed forest in 1921 will plant 7,000 more trees this spring nearly doubling it.

The largest single order for trees thus far received comes from Otsego county which has adopted a definite county forest policy and since 1920 has planted 1,100,000 trees. The county's order for this spring is for 500,000 trees.

"I know an easy way to keep from getting fat..... Light a Lucky instead of eating sweets."

Nazimova
Famous Stage Star

THE modern way to diet! Light a Lucky when fattening sweets tempt you. That's what thousands of lovely women are doing—successfully. The delicately toasted flavor of Luckies makes them a delightful alternative for fattening sweets. Toasting does it. Toasting removes the impurities and improves the flavor of the finest tobacco. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Men who pride themselves on keeping fit discovered this long ago. They know that Luckies steady their nerves and do not impair their physical condition—many prominent athletes have testified to this fact. They discovered, too, that Luckies don't irritate the throat—a fact subscribed to by 20,679 physicians.

Dry Agents Busy At Marlborough

Federal prohibition officers from the local office journeyed to Marlborough Monday and paid a visit to the Pleasant View Hotel in the village where they seized a quantity of aged applejack, wine, and beer and placed under arrest the proprietor of the place, Frank McNeil, and the bartender, William Haase. Both defendants were arraigned before Justice of the Peace John J. Connelly at a later date. He furnished the necessary bail. Haase, however, was unable to furnish the $100 required and was brought to the county jail by the agents. The defendants will be charged with sale and possession of liquors in violation of the provisions of the national prohibition laws.

Republican Club Meets Thursday

The Republican Club will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Lythian Hall, Broadway and Thomas street. The entertainment committee has arranged a fine program of vaudeville acts which will be followed by a smoker and refreshments. Every one who believes in the principles of the Republican party is eligible for membership in the club, and is invited to attend that evening. The social committee is planning for an enjoyable time at all of the meetings of the club, and promises a fine program for Thursday evening.

Health Board Not to Meet

Owing to illness among the members and officers of the board of health, the regular monthly meeting that was to have been held this evening has been postponed until a later date. Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb and Mrs. Thomas J. Hickey, members of the board, are confined to their homes by illness. Others who are ill are Dr. E. H. Loughran, health officer, and Sanitary Inspector Nathan J. Cook.

Fire Board to Organize Tonight

The annual meeting of the board of fire commissioners for the purpose of effecting an organization will be held this evening at the Central Fire Station. It is expected that the board will elect Ray Whitbeck secretary of the board to succeed Andrew J. Murphy, Sr., who has served as secretary for several years, having been appointed during the Block administration.

C. E. Union to Meet Tonight

YOUNG JUDEAN QUINTETS REORGANIZE, WANT GAMES

For the third year in succession the Young Judeans will resume their court wars and hope that plenty of opponents will pop up to keep them busy for the remainder of the basketball season. The same boys, who made the quintets name famous during its two years of existence, will represent the Judeans this season. They are Perlman, Alcon, Sussin, Balinsky and Bahl. The Jewish lads would be pleased to hear from such teams as the Roamers, Chandlers, Combination Five, Scholastics or any other aggregation in the class of those mentioned. Games can be arranged with the Young Judeans by phoning Sig Balinsky, 2108-J, or addressing communications to him at 27 Orchard street.

ACTIVITIES AT WURTS STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

Use Empty Flour Bags to Cut Out Patterns
Even with the "footproof" patterns now sold, the average home dressmaker experiences some qualms when she picks up the scissors to cut into several yards of lustrous, costly silk. There is always the possibility that it may not fit perfectly, because very few people are exactly to measure, and you may want some alteration in style. A sensible plan is first to cut out at least the waist in some other material, have a careful fitting and then cut out the good material from the corrected pattern.

Use empty flour bags for this purpose. They may be had from your local baker for a few cents apiece, and a supply kept on hand in the sewing room will be found useful in several other ways. The bags should be unripped and laundered, making a piece of material about a yard square. The stamping need not be removed for this purpose unless you wish. In this case it is done by covering the inked places with lard or soaking them in kerosene overnight and then washing out in lukewarm water.

By Using an Empty Flour Bag, Valuable Material Is Saved.

Another good use of the flour bags in the sewing room is to "baste" the heavier material to chiffon or georgette before cutting out your dress. It is very hard to cut thin material by itself.

Fairy-Like Footwear in Velvet, Satin and Crepe

Velvet and satin, either black or dyed to match the gown, make the majority of evening slippers. But along with these one finds some noteworthy innovations. For example, there is the brand new model of ombre silk crepe in tricolor effect. Imagine chastrease shading to vivid green, pink beige merging into brown (delightful are these latter for the popular beige evening gown), and lavender rounding out its career in cerise. Silk crepe is achieving a career in plain as well as fanciful effects, and these monotonous slippers, often with straps set in rhinestone, constitute formidable rivals to the more usual satin and velvet. Metallic effects are here both in old and new guises, and this season unusual combinations have been effected of the metallic and the plain media. Also one must note an occasional metal brocade in Paisley colorings.

ACTOR DIES WHO PLAYED "LITTLE LORD FAUNTILEROX"

Pittsburgh, Jan. 8 (P).—Wallace Eddinger, noted actor, who had been ill with pneumonia in the Presbyterian Hospital here since January 3, died early today.

New York, Jan. 8 (P).—Wallace Eddinger, prominent actor, who died in Pittsburgh early today, began his career as a child actor at the age of 10, playing the title role in "Little Lord Fauntleroy," which he played for two and one-half years.

He was born in Albany, N. Y., in 1881. His parents, Lawrence and May Eddinger, both being in the theatrical profession. After a successful career in child roles, he was withdrawn from the stage in 1894 to begin his neglected education, but returned in 1902. He made his first appearance as a full-length actor at the age of 10, playing the title role in "Little Lord Fauntleroy," which he played for two and one-half years.

He was twice married. His first wife was Mrs. Ivy La Grove, whom he married in 1912. They were divorced in 1920. In 1924 he married Margaret Lawrence, the actress, who recently applied for a divorce.

Flashes of Life Sketches in Brief

By The Associated Press

New York—"From America to Europe" is the title of a play depicting man's rise from primal to present, presented by the Science Guild in the form of a series of sketches for the popular exposition of sciences in their manifold phases.

Hammond, Tenn.—Charges that Mrs. Gentry, principal of the Adams County High School, violated the state anti-evolution law were heard by the county school board today. The charges were made by the fathers of two boys who were expelled. Reference was made to the school's library containing the evolution theory.

New York—As a precaution against colds, Dr. M. Taylor Cronk, of Rock, N. Y., writes to the press suggesting that pockets be lined with hot iron and that hands be disinfected. Otherwise, he says, colds are likely to make incubators for germs.

Leipzig, Germany—A theory that it is possible to kill germs by radio has been tested by Professor Egan with ultra waves. With apparatus the size of a cigar box and without an antenna, he has transmitted 250 miles.

New York—Milk is being delivered to households now in conical paper containers treated with sterilized paraffin. The new system is approved by health authorities. Its possibility is saving of broken and lost glass bottles in the country is estimated at $10,000,000 a year. The containers are represented as being able to keep milk pure a month or more.

San Francisco—Great books to last future who would be wise. A new song to his own words, "Break, Break, Break," in the tub, and on with the music.

New York—From 15,000,000 telephones in this country it is possible to speak with persons in 17 countries in Europe using 6,000,000 instruments. Such is the progress of transatlantic telephony in two years.

Richmond, Va.—Miss Viola Gentry, who once held an endurance record, hopes to go to Hamburg.

Mexico City—A ghost has been terrorizing and robbing motorists on the Mexico City-Toluca road. Valiant police, catching him in the act, found inside a white robe one Eduardo Cervantes Flores.

Northampton, Mass.—Smith College girls are glad to help out a boy friend. George C. Woolley, motored from Newton, Mass., to visit a student. His car was not insured, as required by state law. He was fined $100. He didn't have it. College boys took up a collection.

New York—Norman Thomas, recent Socialist candidate for president and an ordained Presbyterian minister, is unwilling to perform marriage ceremonies, since he thinks there may be some slight question as to his moral right to do so when he is no longer active in the ministry. He gave his views in explaining why he declined to marry Mrs. Mary Wilson Garland, divorced wife of Charles Garland, to Elizabeth Morgan, publisher.

Chicago—A jury which acquitted a man found on a roof with purpose tools at midnight must spend eleven days in the rear of the court and learn something by order of Judge George F. Bush.

MILTON

Milton, Jan. 7.—The annual Christmas supper of the Presbyterian Sunday school and children was given in the church parlor Saturday evening. There was a very large attendance and everybody present spent an enjoyable evening. The following musical program in charge of Mrs. Oliver Kent was rendered: Hymn, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing"; recitation, Perry Kent; recitation, Betty Taber; recitation, Billy Taber; piano solo, Miriam Sears; recitation, Kathleen Kent; recitation, Edward Martin; recitation, Virginia Hallock; recitation, Gifford Hallock, Jr.; recitation, F. Clarke; song, "Town of Bethlehem"; Helen Kent; recitation, Miriam Sears. The hymn, "Town of Bethlehem," was beautifully sung by Helen Kent. Mrs. Oliver Kent presided at the piano. Songs and other songs were rendered in charge of Mrs. Edward Young, after which beautiful refreshments were served to all and presents of candy, etc., given to the children. Much credit is due to Mrs. Oliver Kent for the musical program rendered. Mrs. Kent had been ill for the past two weeks but she did not let her illness keep her from doing her part toward making the evening delightful and entertaining. The Rev. J. A. Hurn, pastor of the Methodist Church, and Mrs. M. H. Bell gave very interesting addresses. The Rev. Frank Kaven of Poughkeepsie, who has been visiting in Kingston, gave a very interesting address. There were a number of other speakers and an amount of this nature there have been to services for the past two weeks. His many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. S. B. Taber is confined to her home with a severe attack of the grip. Funeral services for Mrs. Mary V. Butler were held at her late home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. J. A. Hurn officiated. The guests were: Emma Lyons, W. H. Lyons, Russell Martin, Frank Goss, Charlotte Layton, and Frank McNichols. The interment took place in the Highland cemetery. Mrs. Butler is survived by her son, Percy V. Butler of Milton, two sisters, Mrs. Emma Smith of Schenectady, and Mrs. Edna Tetter of Belleville, N. Y.

The Maids and Matrons will hold their monthly meeting Tuesday evening, January 15. Phillip Caverly of Poughkeepsie spent New Year's Day at the home of his mother, Mrs. Cornelia Caverly. Michael Conroy, Miss Loretta Spratt and Francis Kaley attended a New Year's party in New York city. Mrs. M. H. Clarke and Miss Edna Martin were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Preston of Highland New Year's Day.

Miss Caroline Sears, who has been ill, has resumed her duties as librarian at the T. H. Hallock Free Library.

Barrett McNichols of New York was a holiday guest at the home of his mother, Mrs. Carrie McNichols.

Alfred C. Jenkins is confined to his home with illness. Mrs. Christopher Miller is seriously ill with a grip cold.

Miss Lois Taber has returned to Syracuse University where she is taking a course in journalism.

Mrs. Joseph Kellick and family are ill with the grip. People here hope for their speedy recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lohm called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McCormack one evening last week.

Miss Edith Peterson has returned to her school as teacher for the rest of the year. All are glad to have Miss Peterson back here again.

Mrs. Moses Van Demark was a guest of Mrs. H. Moeller and daughters, Elsie and Elmon, on Wednesday last.

Miss Ethel Wood, who has been making her home with Mrs. Moses Van Demark, has returned to her sister's in Albany.

The house of Carl Johnson in this place was destroyed by fire on Friday evening. Before any of the nearby neighbors could get there it was all in flames.

Mrs. H. Hensley and Mrs. H. Hensley and Walter Clark of Brooklyn were the guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lohm on Sunday.

Cornelius Pater has returned to Greenwich, Conn., where he is employed, after spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Pater, in this place.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held last Thursday afternoon. The meeting was called to order at 7:30 by the president. One new member was enrolled at the first meeting of the new year. Motion was made and carried that the dues for the coming year will be 15 cents a month if present and 25 cents a month if absent. Refreshments were served at 11:30. All enjoyed the box of candy presented by Frederick Davis. The meeting adjourned and all reported a good time. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Christiana and family, who were ill with the grip, are able to be around again.

All are glad to have the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Rice, back here again.

Walter Moeller is ill with a cold. All hope to see him out again.

Mrs. L. Bouthillier of White Plains is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McCormack, in this place.

Keep young bodies clean and healthy

—hot water will help

MOTHERS enjoy most those friendly hours with the youngsters when they are helping make their bodies sturdy and strong to resist illness. Little bundles of nerves are these childish forms which splash and laugh as mummy lathers them, bathes them, and wipes them dry with a soft woolly towel—and then carries them off to bed, and sweet slumber.

For these daily baths—and grown ups enjoy them, too—there must be a supply of hot water always on tap. The new Rex-Parol Water Heater is just the thing to supply continual hot water in the home for every need. It is an automatic heater with thermostatic control and gas safety pilot, which may be attached to any boiler. You pay $2 down and only $2 on your monthly bill over a period of 2 years. ## 40 Incorporations In Ulster County

Albany, Jan. 8.—A total of 40 new companies incorporated in Ulster county during the past year, according to the records in the corporation bureau, the largest bureau of its kind in the world, and located in the Department of State, of which Edward J. Flynn is at the head. Last year proved the biggest in the history of the bureau, the year's total of 26,817 stock companies incorporating representing a gain of 1,147 over the total for the previous year. The receipts to the bureau reached more than five million dollars during the year, and represented a gain of over one million dollars over the 1927 totals.

Out of last year's total of 26,817 companies incorporated, 22,957 are located in Greater New York, leaving 3,860 companies outside of the metropolis. It is noticeable that the number of companies has increased in practically every county in the state, and that substantial capitalization has been the rule last year, rather than the exception.

In handling this vast amount of business, the corporation bureau has necessarily written approximately 41,000 letters, has dispatched over 10,000 telegrams in expedient matters, while over 17,000 forms have been filled in and mailed out to companies and parties directly concerned in the incorporation of companies.

Doctors Everywhere Urge Citrus Fruits as Effective "FLU" Preventive

Florida Rushing Oranges and Grapefruit to Epidemic Cities
Former President of Hahnemann Hospital, Chicago, Tells Here of Protective Measures

FOREMOST physicians say that one of the quickest, most effective precautions against influenza known to modern medicine is to eat—and drink—oranges and grapefruit plentifully.

For citrus fruits turn alkaline in the system—build up the alkaline reserve that increases resistance to common colds, gripe and influenza. They provide vitamins and mineral salts that help the general health of the body—for oranges and grapefruit are one of the world's richest known sources of these vital food factors. They combat acidity—so often resulting from the usual winter diet of meats, heavy starches, sweets—acidity which is an internal enemy of the body, lowering normal resistance and inviting illness.

Start Citrus Protection Without Delay, Doctors Warn
Now, with the influenza epidemic raging in city after city throughout this country, leading doctors everywhere are urging adults and children to take the precautionary health measures listed here to help fight the disease.

Everybody, young and old, should have plentiful amounts of Florida Oranges and Grapefruit every day—several times a day. A glass of orange juice or half a grapefruit for breakfast is now here near enough. Serve Florida Oranges or Grapefruit at every meal—and in between times. The newest way for grapefruit is as a drink—squeezed right into the glass—chilled—sweetened a bit if preferred.

But in whatever form, remember that at this time Florida Oranges and Grapefruit are recommended urgently by modern doctors as one of the most important protective measures possible against the "flu" and other kindred illnesses.

This advertisement is sponsored by the Florida Citrus Growers' Clearing House Ass'n, Winter Haven, Florida.

DR. DANIEL R. HODGDON, of New York, formerly President of the Hahnemann Hospital in Chicago, has successfully prevented colds and "flu" among 1100 children whose diets he now personally supervises. He says:

"Too much stress cannot be laid upon the use of citrus fruits and fresh vegetables during any influenza epidemic. Each person should eat generous amounts of oranges and grapefruit, together with plenty of raw vegetables every day."

"Should you feel a cold coming on, an extra measure of protection is to drink the heated juice of a grapefruit just before retiring, in addition to the grapefruit and oranges you take several times during the day. There is no surer way of breaking up a cold or influenza."

"Avoid the use of excessive protein foods, eggs, meats, etc., and carbohydrates. Avoid rich foods and overeating. Get plenty of sleep, keeping windows open. Keep home temperature even throughout the day, avoiding overheating. Stay out of crowds if possible."

"If you feel ill, consult your physician immediately."

Daniel R. Hodgdon

Precautions against colds and "flu"

Do these two things:

1. Protect nose and throat
2. Keep system in good condition

There's no need to get panicky because the papers are full of news of an influenza epidemic. There's no use in isolating yourself because a lot of other people are sick with it. If you take two simple precautions every day—and then don't worry—the chances are you will throw off any cold or "flu" germs you are exposed to, and keep well.

We're not recommending that you dose yourself with a lot of medicines, either. Just observe two common-sense health rules which can be easily followed.

FIRST of all, make sure your system is in first class order. Don't let it get slowed up or sluggish. See to it that it functions perfectly. The easiest way to get run down and in a condition to pick up disease is to neglect this all-important matter.

Physicians agree that, particularly in times of epidemic, purging by laxatives and cathartics is not advisable. Many doctors are therefore prescribing Nujol, as in no case does it cause exhaustion or weakening of the system in any way.

Nujol can't possibly upset you or disagree with you. For it contains absolutely no medicine or drugs.

Get a bottle today at your nearest drug store and start taking Nujol tonight as the simple way to keep fit and to protect yourself against influenza.

That's the first precaution. Now for the second. Keep your nose and throat well protected with Mistol.

When you get a bottle of Nujol, get a bottle of Mistol, too.

Dr. David says:

"I'm advising all my patients these days to keep Mistol on hand and use it regularly. The first thing in the morning before you go out. And again at night when you come home. Don't be afraid to use it freely. It will do no harm. And then stop worrying. You've done all you can to safeguard yourself."

"Put Mistol up your nose. There's a special dropper that comes in every package that makes it very easy to use. Just tilt your head back and drop it in your nose until you feel it in your throat. You'll notice the pleasant, cleansing effect at once. Mistol clears your head and makes breathing easy. It has a healing, soothing effect on the membranes and relieves any irritation or inflammation. It helps dry up a running nose. Use it, too, as a gargle. Mistol is good for a sore throat or hacking cough. And above all, protect the nose and throat against germs."

"Don't wait till you begin to sneeze or your throat aches. Take my advice and get a bottle of Mistol today. Every druggist knows it."

The combination treatment of Nujol and Mistol is a double safeguard against influenza. Start this wise two-fold precaution now. Don't delay.

Nujol and Mistol are both made by the same famous laboratories, of the finest quality materials and with the greatest skill possible. Both preparations are harmless. At all druggists. Aren't they worth trying?

DAIRY FACTS

STANCHIONS ARE NEEDED FOR CALF

Turned Loose Too Soon, They Get Bad Habits.

If young calves are not given good attention during the first few months of their lives they will become undernourished, lack in size, and often become practically worthless for breeding animals. When fall and winter calves are given good attention they will generally grow into better cows than spring-dropped calves, as they will be old enough to go onto pasture in the spring and make satisfactory gains.

Milk is the food provided by nature for calves and man has never found a substitute that equals it. Whole milk is needed for the first month, or at least during the greater portion of it. After that time skim milk may be gradually substituted as the calves will commence eating grain and hay. The maximum amount of whole milk to feed is twelve pounds daily and sixteen pounds should be the maximum amount of skim milk used.

Individual stanchions are needed in feeding calves by hand. In this way each calf will get its own allowance of milk. Grain can be put in the pails after the milk is consumed and the calves will gradually learn to eat. If the calves are turned loose too soon after they are through drinking they will often acquire the habit of sucking ears, etc., which will result in poor gains. After two or three weeks the whole milk may be gradually substituted with part skim milk and the proportion of skim milk gradually increased as the calves gain in size and age. The milk from the calf's mother should be fed for the first few days as it is lactative in character and will help get the bowels properly cleaned.

Cleanliness in the calf stables and feed buckets is essential in preventing scours and other similar troubles. Sunlight is necessary if the calves make the best gains. Fresh water should also be supplied as the calves will drink a considerable amount. A sunny, protected lot, where the calves may run during warm days will not only give them exercise but will help to keep their stables in better condition and furnish them sunshine.

Calves Need Some Whole Milk to Get Good Start

Calves which are only one week old need some whole milk if they are to get the best start. However, some people follow the practice of buying calves from dairymen and raising them on substitute rations.

The United States bureau of dairying recommends the following formula which has been used with considerable success by many dairymen: Fifty pounds corn meal, finely ground; 50 pounds linseed meal; 15 pounds oats, finely ground and rolled; 10 pounds of dried blood flour; 10 pounds skim milk powder; one-half pound salt.

The above combination of feeds are carefully mixed together. One-half pound of the mixture stirred into four and one-half pints of boiling water and fed when sufficiently cool makes a feed for a calf which is one month old. Two feeds are necessary daily. The amount may be doubled by the time calves are two months old. Calves may gradually be shifted to a ration that is less complicated at that time.

Dairy Notes

It does not pay to feed good cows rations that are not well balanced.

Drinking water for the calves should have the chill removed.

The proper cleaning of the separator after each separation is of great importance.

Some cows are slow to "give down" and for them the massaging or manipulation of the udder that is inevitable in the process of washing is especially useful.

Every dairy farmer should provide himself with a milkhouse to be used exclusively for the handling of milk and milk products. In building a milkhouse, do not place it too near the stable.

Pumpkins are a good feed for dairy cows. One ton of pumpkins is equal in feeding value to about 400 pounds of mixed hay or 800 pounds of corn silage. This includes the seeds with the pumpkins.

The bureau of dairy industry says that milk produced by sterile cows that are otherwise in good health is just as good as milk produced by other cows as long as it is normal in appearance and flavor.

One of the greatest sources of sour milk and low-grade dairy products is the unsterilized utensil. The tiny bacteria that cause souring, off flavors, and sometimes sickness, grow very fast on the moist surfaces of unsterilized pails, strainers, cans, etc.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Spring Woolens Take on Hints of Color and Originality.

New York—We think of tweeds in terms of neutral colors, or at least as browns or heathers, but tweeds have been dipped in the dye pot and have gone bright—with red heading a list of strong colors not heretofore associated with woolens of any kind. While there are times and places for plain materials, the new note is for novelty and for interesting mixtures of at least two colors.

There are, needless to say, many ensembles combining wool and silk, and the new note for this particular combination is expressed by the silk repeating the design of the wool. In the same manner prints are combined which are identical in all but texture; chiffon and taffeta or crepe being examples of this interesting detail.

It seems definitely conceded that suits are to be headliners for spring, but opinions on coat lengths are varied. Generally speaking, costume suits will have longer coats than those regulation tailleur type. With the latter, the tuck-in-blouse is regarded as the correct finishing touch, while the costume suit appears to call for something rather less tailored. The over blouse, measured to the length of the coat is something about which to speculate, especially since it is off-red in colored pique. Unlined, or skeleton coats give great promise, and the appearance of raveled edges is an echo chez Chanel, who included a lip stick red chiffon with frayed edges, in her mid season collection. It must be admitted however that the idea did not go over. The raveled edge as applied to woolens seems to have a much better chance.

A Black and White Wool Tweed Featuring a Three-Quarter Coat and White Silk Pique Tunic Correspondingly Long.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS.

A New Doll Set.

5536. The little doll mother may not only make dolly's clothes but also the doll, from the models supplied herewith. The body may be of drill, unbleached muslin, oil cloth or satin, with a stuffing of bran, kapa, or cotton. Eyes of shoe buttons, nose and lips of yarn, or the features may be embroidered or painted.

Dressed as a clown this doll will be very attractive. The suit may be of calico, cretonne or scraps of silk or satin. One or two colors of materials may be used. For the rompers cretonne or zingham is pleasing. Dolly will be so glad of the dear little pockets in her rompers, and "Pierrot" the clown will do all sorts of tricks in his comfortable costume, if his arms and legs are fastened so as to be movable.

The pattern comprising the doll and the garments, is cut in 3 sizes: Small—12 inches, medium—16 inches, large—20 inches in length. The doll requires for a medium size 1/2 yard. The rompers 3/4 yard. The suit and hat, 1 1/4 yard of 27-inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

SHOKAN LODGE, I. O. O. F.,

INSTALLED OFFICERS SATURDAY

Despite the freezing rain, which turned the surface of the earth into a sheet of ice, the ceremonies of installation at Shokan I. O. O. F. Lodge on Saturday evening, January 5, were attended by about 45 members.

District Deputy Sidney A. Johnson and staff of Aretas Lodge, No. 172, of Kingston, installed the following officers:

Noble grand, Raymond Bell; vice grand, William Jordan; recording secretary, Marjorie McLean; financial secretary, John Jordan; treasurer, C. Gordon.

Following this the appointive officers were selected and duly installed. The newly elected noble grand then addressed the lodge. He stated that the purpose of the Shokan Lodge was to be a place where the members could meet and discuss the problems of the lodge. He also stated that the lodge was a place where the members could meet and discuss the problems of the lodge.

The remainder of the staff also gave short but interesting talks. The Odd Fellowship, among the points brought out was the advisability of the instituting of a Rebekah lodge which has in so many cases been a great help in keeping up interest and getting new members into the lodge.

The encampment branch of the order was also discussed by various members of the staff of which every one is a member, and a cordial and fraternal initiation was extended to the members of Shokan Lodge to join the Kingston Encampment in which the great lessons of Odd Fellowship are so beautifully exemplified in the encampment degrees. Several others made interesting remarks. The recording noble grand, Virgil C. Gordon, on behalf of Past District Deputy Arthur E. Trowbridge of Shokan Lodge, who is employed in New York city and was unable to attend, extended his deep regrets in being unable to do so and extended his well wishes and success to the members of Aretas Lodge.

A delegation of five members from Bearville I. O. O. F. Lodge, No. 322, also attended and a cordial welcome was extended by the brothers of Shokan Lodge. On behalf of William H. Raymond Lodge, No. 159, of Saugerties, the district deputy extended a cordial invitation to all Odd Fellows in this section to attend the installation to be held January 14 at Saugerties, at which time the initiatory degree will be conferred on a class of candidates by the degree team of William H. Raymond Lodge, of which the equal is not to attend but the only place large enough to hold so large an assemblage would be the armory for which the charge would be prohibitive. It was then decided that the next best thing would be a private installation and the home of William H. Raymond Lodge was the place selected. After the close of the meeting at Shokan Lodge, all adjourned to the auditorium down stairs where refreshments were served in abundance by Oscar Dudley, assisted by an able corps of helpers.

Much credit is due the district deputy and his staff in the very able manner in which the ceremonies of installation were conducted. With the new officers installed and the expectancy of a number of applications for membership pending, the prospects of the future of Shokan Lodge is indeed bright. Shokan Lodge is long established and in a sound financial condition, owning its fine large hall, and has on its roll over 125 members in good standing.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 8 (P).—Financial shifts of speculative sentiment characterized today's stock market, with the general tendency being downward. A heavy opening was followed by a quick rally around midday when selling held despite the energetic efforts of pool operators to revive bullish enthusiasm. Heavy selling by bear traders was an important factor in the day's fluctuations.

Uncertainty over the credit situation was accentuated by the comment of leading executives at the annual National Bank meetings held here today. Most bankers confidently looked forward to a continuation of good business but emphasized the danger in a possible credit strain. Radio again bore the brunt of the selling pressure, opening 2 points higher at 37 1/2 and then dropping to 35 1/2, which contrasts with a high of 41 1/2 last Saturday. The new stock opened at 75 1/2, and dropped to 72 1/2. Wide swings took place in some of the other high-priced issues. Commercial Investment Trust ran up 12 points to a new high at 155, or about 100 points above last year's low, and then dropped back to 145. Wright Aeronautical fell 7 1/2 points to 260, rallied to 265 1/2, and then slipped to 257.

Smart New Headress

Owes Origin to Dutch

The newest hat unquestionably owes its origin to the Dutch headress which has been worn in the low countries for centuries. The shape is round and fits the head closely. In the back there is no brim whatsoever, but in the front the crown is continued and shaped to form a brim about an inch and a half wide. This ends abruptly just in front of either ear. Over the crown is passed a four-inch band of ribbon, which is tied in a bow at the edge of the brimless back.

French of Soft Velvets

Soft velvet is used by some of the best designers to produce lovely evening gowns. One delightful model is of very soft velvet with skirt that is flat, front and back, and very circular on the sides. The sleeveless round-necked waist is finished at the shoulders with two bows.

The income tax is a penalty imposed upon the successful.

Society Notes

Local Death Record

The funeral of William Whitaker, son of the late Captain Robert Whitaker, formerly of Saugerties, who died at his home in Elizabeth, N. J., Sunday, January 6, was held at Trinity Church, Saugerties, this afternoon. Interment in Trinity cemetery, Saugerties.

County Federation Meeting

The open meeting of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs for January will be in the nature of a county meeting and will be held at the county chamber of commerce, Harry B. Walker, Tuesday, January 24, in the chapel of the First Reformed church, the hour being 2 o'clock following the business session of the Federation at 2:20 o'clock. Mrs. Fred W. Cameron, Third District director, and Mrs. Charles J. Reeder, president of the New York State Federation, will be the guests of honor and the speakers.

Sorosis

On Monday afternoon Sorosis members met at the home of Mrs. R. W. Announcements were made of the coming course of lectures by Bruce Bennett on "Modern Poetry and Drama" to be given at the Y. W. C. A. on consecutive Thursday afternoons, beginning Thursday, January 10. Mrs. Lasher had the paper for the day and gave a remarkably interesting and informing presentation of the subject "Life Extension." Next Monday afternoon Sorosis and Twentieth Century Club members will meet at the home of Mrs. Graham, when Miss Lyon will address them on Current Events. The meeting will be at 2:30 o'clock, promptly.

Monday Club

The Monday Club held its first regular meeting of this season on Monday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. William Lawton. Following the business session the members present greatly enjoyed Mrs. Wheeler's excellent and entertaining paper on "America at Play." Owing to the recent illness of Rev. Francis M. O'Reilly of Roseton, who was to have addressed the Monday Club next week, on the subject of "The Drama," Sidney Clapp, who was to later speak on "Forestry," kindly consented to exchange dates with Father O'Reilly. The next meeting of the Monday Club, January 14, will be again with Mrs. Lawton when Mr. Clapp will address the club members.

Benedictine Beautiful

The Benedictine Hospital and Nurses' Home were beautiful to eye of the patient, the hospital personnel and visitors during the Christmas holidays. Throughout the large corridors and in the waiting rooms the true Christmas spirit was brought to the sick through the medium of appropriate decorations, Christmas trees with all the accessories, seasonal plants and flowers and gifts were everywhere to be seen. Much time was given to this work and great credit is given Mrs. Edward Kelley, chairman, and the following ladies: Mrs. Joan D. Goldrick, Mrs. Samuel Clegg, Mrs. Edmund Rockford, Mrs. Harold Van Nostrand, Mrs. Augustus Kogel, Miss Eleanor Rosecrans, and Miss Florence Cordis. The Nurses' Home was decorated by Mrs. Thomas Hayes and committee.

Mack-Osterhout

Miss Ethel Osterhout of Stone Ridge and Richard Mack of Lomontville were united in marriage on Sunday, January 6, at the home of the bride. Following the wedding dinner and reception the newlyweds left for the Governor Clinton Hotel, where they will reside until their new home at 141 Linderman avenue is completed. Owing to the fact that Mr. Mack recently recovered from a serious mastoid operation they were unable to take the trip which they had planned. On Friday evening, January 4, a miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Osterhout. Musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. Fred Oakley, Mrs. Tracey and Miss Grace Bush with Miss Mabel Krom at the piano. Everyone was delighted to hear again Charles Gerwin whose songs with guitar accompaniment are so popular. Miss Osterhout was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

All in the Family

If the number of our ancestors doubled in each ascending generation, as it would do if the marriage of cousins of various degrees did not take place, each of us would be descended from more than a billion ancestors of a thousand years ago, let us say in the reign of William the Conqueror. Even allowing for numerous intermarriages of relatives it is highly probable that all people of English or French or German stock are descended from common ancestors of a thousand years ago.—American Journal of Sociology.

LYNCH—Entered into rest, Monday afternoon, January 7, 1929, John Edward Lynch, beloved husband of Mary E. Weir and loving father of Dr. Joseph A. Dr. Thomas A. John E. Alphonsus and Aloysius Lynch, Mrs. Joseph Rafferty, Mrs. Agnes Freeman. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral to be held from his late home, 66 Clinton avenue, on Thursday at 8 a. m. and at St. Peter's Church, Haverstraw, N. Y., at 11 a. m. where a solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment in the family plot in St. Peter's cemetery. Auto cortege.

FLARE SHARPLY DECLINED.

The present status of the flare is much more verbal than real, says a fashion writer in the New York Herald Tribune. You may hear much and read much about the numerous flaring ribbons that Paris is offering in coats and wraps as well as ensembles and frocks. But it requires very little analysis to establish the fact that the current version of the flare, save in the most formal wraps, is sharply deflated. By far the greater portion of the midseason themes which are described as variations of the flare are in reality graceful diversions of the straightline motif.

About the Folks

Conrad Stiller, superintendent of the city hall is expected to his home by illness.

Martin Hamilton, former supervisor from the town of Lennox, was a visitor in town today.

The city ambulance on Monday removed Richard Gardner from 111 Gage street to the city of Kingston Hospital.

The first birth to be reported to the board of health this year is that of a daughter, Lena, to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gallo of 4 Hanratty street.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Smith of 19 Gage street are receiving congratulations over the birth of twin girls, at their home Friday. Mother and children are doing nicely under the care of Dr. Chidester.

Miss Phurcia Whitcraft of Broadway, Port Ewen, who has been traveling in Europe for the past eight months visiting France, Switzerland, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Germany returned on the Leviathan and spent the holidays with her family here.

Philip Weiskopf, caretaker at the club house of Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. E., on Fair street, who about a week ago underwent operations for intestinal troubles at the Benedictine Hospital, is reported of the bulletin board at the club house as convalescing.

Auction Off Stock

The entire stock of the Carl & Passenden dry goods store, corner of Broadway and Field Court, will be auctioned off on Thursday, starting at 5 a. m., by Leo B. Weiskopf and Edward Dugich, who disposed of the stock of the late Joseph Block recently. These men will be assisted by the Messrs. Levy and Britt, formerly clerks in the Block store, and Mrs. Whitaker, of the Carl & Passenden store.

ATHIRST

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I thought I knew what thirst may be,
For once I walked the desert lands,
And found no spring, no fruitful tree,
No shade amid the blinding sands.
I thought I knew, but now I know
That thirsts will come and thirsts will go,
But life has many other things,
And lips may thirst for more than springs.

I thought I knew what hunger was,
For once a west wind blew us far;
We fought for food with bony claws,
And men became the men they are.
I thought I knew, but now the days
Drag wearily their famished ways;
No golden plate, no silver bowl,
Can feed the famine of the soul.

I thought I knew this thing desire,
Had I not sailed the seven seas,
And dared the desert's yellow fire,
And plundered buried treasures?
And now I am the poorest wight
In all God's world of men tonight.
For what is wealth? I thought I knew,
But all I want tonight is you.

Why We Do What We Do

By M. E. THOMSON, Ph. D.

WHY WE ARE ALL ALIKE

NO TWO of us are exactly alike in every respect. Yet by virtue of the fact that we are human beings we share like qualities. We are all alike in kind. We differ only in degree. We all have the common human instincts of hunger, sex, curiosity, except that one or more of these impulses are stronger in some than in others. In one person the instinct of curiosity may be completely overcome by the emotion of fear while another person might have this impulse abnormally developed as in the vicious forms of gossip.

The same is true of all the other human qualities of body and mind. Heredity, training, education, likes and dislikes both native and acquired make a difference as to the exact place an impulse or emotion or idea or some other mental trait will have in any given case. Nevertheless we all possess these traits in varying degrees.

It is on the basis of these common psychic human traits that we interpret conduct. Human nature is no exception to the rule that nothing ever happens without a cause. When you see a broken window pane you know that something happened to it. You may not be able to tell whether it was struck by a ball, a stone, a club or something else, but you are certain some force was applied.

Similarly there is a cause or motive for every human act. Why do we laugh, cry, etc., sleep, dream, get angry, run away from danger, grow old, die, suffer pain, feel sorrow, and do many other things peculiar to human beings? There is always some cause or causes for every act.

Sometimes it is very difficult to determine the true motive. Life is a tangled skein and motives are highly complex. What often seems like a real motive may turn out to be a rationalization, the reason we give for doing what we want to do. The science of motivation is the latest and one of the most interesting and useful studies in psychology.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

THE OLD LIBERTY POLE

IT WAS in 1776 that the Liberty pole which stood in "The Fields" outside of the city of New York was chopped down by order of the British governor.

Nearly a century and a half after that event, a replica of the mast was set up by the Sons of the Revolution and Historical society close to the original spot in City Hall park.

No symbol of Revolutionary days, and the events which led to the foundation of the American republic, could express more clearly than this flagstaff the change in public sentiment which brought about the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

When the first of five Liberty poles was put up in 1700 the colonists had not become nationalists. Their idea of freedom was not independence. They did not want to go their own way. All that was to come later.

It was on the birthday of George III and to celebrate the repeal of the Stamp Act that the original pole was erected. The ceremonies were marked by expressions of loyalty and general satisfaction. But this was not to last for long.

What the Americans of that day had objected to was the way in which the British parliament had treated them.

They could see no reason why British subjects living on this side of the Atlantic should not enjoy the same rights as British subjects on the other side of the Atlantic.

They objected as "Englishmen" to what they called the un-English things other Englishmen in London had done to them.

If the first Liberty pole was associated with good will to the king over the water, the other four poles which succeeded it took on a different significance.

The authorities came to dislike the new ideas that they stood for. So they were cut down as having a bad influence.

The last pole was erected in 1770 after some opposition. It stayed in place as a rallying point for the Sons of Liberty, until the year 1776, when it was removed in the midst of the excitement caused by the revolution.

The site of the Liberty pole is thus one of the historic spots associated with the final and new freedom.

These include Washington's pew in St. Paul's church, the place on the treasury steps at Wall street where the first President was sworn in, and the little park at Bowling Green where stood the leaden statue of King George which was pulled down and melted into bullets for the use of the American soldiers.
